SYDNEY SWAINE

CO-FOUNDER
AND INTERNATIONAL DIRECTOR
AT NEUROTECHX

Born and raised in Montreal, Sydney's mission in life is to spread innovation, emerging technology, education, and accessible technology. About three years ago he cofounded one of the larger incubators in Quebec called District 3 where he played multiple roles. Sydney fell in love with the maker ideology in 2013 during a visit to his first maker fair in New York and helped to bring the makerspace concept to the incubator.

Currently he is a co-founder of NeurotechX, a non-profit organization which is facilitating the advancement of Neurotechnology by offering networking opportunities and learning resources.

He believes that education should always be free or subsidized. His small way of doing that on LinkedIn is that He provides free consulting on Entrepreneurship, Neurotechnology and Emerging Technologies.
